BIG THREE CONFERENCE TO OPEN TO-DAY

President and Premier In Potsdam

PRESIDENT TRUMAN and Mr. Churchill arrived in Berlin yesterday for the Conference at Potsdam, which will begin to-day and may last for some weeks. The two leaders were later reported to be conferring.

Marshal Stalin, who left Moscow by train on Saturday, was hourly expected in Berlin yesterday, and there was no indication, an N.B.C. broadcast said, of the whereabouts of the Russian delegation.

Potsdam—the "German Versailles," where the talks will take place—was reported to be completely isolated from Berlin yesterday to all but authorised visitors.

Fourteen planes touching down at an unnamed airport brought the British and American visitors, and almost immediately after their arrival the two leaders met. Their informal chat was the unofficial opening of the Big Three talks, which, according to Moscow reports last night, have no time limit.

The agenda of the conference has world-wide implications. President Truman is said to have brought with him proposals for a United Nations peace conference in 1946. The spade work for the peace conference, whenever it comes, must begin in Potsdam with a resolute tackling of the main issues, including the future of Germany, Reuter states, and it is expected, the broad outlines of settlement of boundary disputes in Europe, Russia's place in the Mediterranean, and possibly the formulating of a common policy towards General Franco's Spain.

A communiqué released in Berlin last night said, according to Berlin Radio:—

"It is officially announced that the Prime Minister and the British delegation have arrived for the Three-Power Conference at Potsdam. Mr. Churchill is accompanied by the Foreign Secretary and Mr. Attlee, the Minister of War Transport, the Paymaster-General, the three Chiefs of Staff, Field-Marshal Sir Alan Brooke, Marshal of the Royal Air Force, Sir Charles Portal, and Admiral of the Fleet, Sir Andrew Cunningham.

"Sir Edward Bridges, Sir Alexander Cadogan and General Sir Hastings Ismay, with their staffs, are attending the conferences."

Field-Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, Field-Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery, Field-Marshal Sir Henry Maitland Wilson and Sir Archibald Clark-Kerr, British Ambassador to Moscow, will also be present at the meeting, the communiqué added.

PEACE OF EUROPE

Upon the three Great Powers, represented by their leading statesmen, the future peace of Europe depends, says the Press Association diplomatic correspondent, and on their control also, huge devastated areas and masses of humanity, who, throughout a winter of great hardship, must be provided with at least a minimum of food, clothing, heat and transport. The short term policy for Germany is well-known, but decisions will be made vitally affecting the future. Some form of German Government will have to be formed to act under Allied supervision, and the question to be decided is what German political party from which such a Government would be formed shall be allowed to operate.

Sitting as a preliminary peace conference, the "Big Three" and their Foreign Ministers will have to consider adjustments not only of Germany's western and eastern frontiers, but similar problems in Central and South-East Europe. Britain and America will raise the question of a peace treaty for Italy and her admission to the United Nations, a matter brought up to date by the Italian gesture of declaring war on Japan, made on the eve of the Potsdam meeting.

Mediterranean problems include its eastern and western exits. Russia has asked to come in on the Paris talks on Tangier, but no decision on the point has yet been lodged, and in London Mr. Eden and Mr. Saka, the Turkish Foreign Minister, have already had discussions on the future of the Dardanelles Straits, a matter which Russia has already raised in preliminary discussions for the renewal of the Turco-Russian pact of friendship.

Marshal Stalin will, without doubt, raise the question of the attitude of the Great Powers to the present regime in Spain, and consideration of Mediterranean problems can scarcely exclude a decision on the Levant and Greece.

As to the achievement of victory in the Far East, opinion differs, and there are good judges who believe that, as Russia is not at war with Japan, this cannot be one of the major questions of the conference.

Reuter's Special Correspondent in Rome last night that messages expressing the hopes which Italy pins on the Big Three meeting have been sent to Mr. Churchill, President Truman and Marshal Stalin by Professor Ferruccio Parri, the Italian Prime Minister on the eve of their conference in Potsdam.

GERMAN PLAN

Reuter's special correspondent in Berlin yesterday said that four of the major political German organisations in the Russian zone have agreed on a common programme of home and foreign policy. Represented at the meeting were the German Social Democratic Party, the German Communist Party, the Christian Democratic Union and the Liberal Democratic Party. The programme unanimously agreed upon was:—

1. Co-operation in cleansing Germany from the remnants of Hitlerism and rebuilding the country on anti-Fascist and Democratic lines.
2. Speedy reconstruction of the national economy to secure bread, clothing, work and homes.
3. The establishment of full recognition of personal rights.
4. Security for freedom of beliefs and thought and respect for religious convictions.
5. Reconquest of trust and the establishment, on a mutual basis of respect, of relations with other nations, an honest readiness to carry out the orders of the occupying authorities, and recognition of the German duty in making good the ravages of war.

POLISH FORCES

The future of members of the Polish forces which fought on the Western front and in Italy and refuse to recognise the new Polish Government will be discussed at the Big Three meeting in Potsdam, Major-General Klemens Rudnicki, commanding the Polish 1st Armoured Division, said in Meppen, Germany, yesterday.

Leaders of these forces continue to support the former London Government of President Wladyslav Raczkiewicz, and oppose the new Warsaw Government, now recognised by the leading Allied Powers.

"We all want to return to Poland, but we will not accept the present Warsaw Government, which we do not think expresses the will of the people," said General Rudnicki. "We will not return to Poland until free, honest elections are held. If we are not satisfied that the elections have been held satisfactorily, I think we shall stay here and ask for British nationality."

The 1st Armoured Division, which fought in the 1st Canadian Army from Caen to Wilhelmshaven, is carrying out occupation duties on the River Ems, in North-West Germany.—(Reuter.)

SHIPS BOMBARD JAPAN

THREE U.S. battleships yesterday bombarded Japan for the second time in 48 hours. Their guns opened fire on Muroran, Japan's second biggest steel centre, ninety minutes after Admiral Nimitz had warned the Japanese to expect a new attack.

The assault was carried out by three of America's biggest and most powerful battleships, Missouri, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Muroran lies on the east side of Hokkaido, the most northerly island in the Japanese home group.

Rear-Admiral O. C. Badger commanded this force, which is distinct from the task force which pounded Kaimishi, 175 miles north-east of Tokyo, on Honshu island on Saturday. Muroran is 210 air miles north of Kaimishi. Badger led his task force well into the mouth of the bay, steaming close in to the land to bring the steel mills and the city within range of destroyers, as well as battleships, so that his bombardment fleet was enclosed on three sides by land. The attacks were unopposed.

The Japanese News Agency yesterday described the task force bombardment and the carrier aircraft attacks as a complete fiasco, which "merely showed the Japanese nation how poor the marksmanship of American carrier aircraft fliers is."

Super-Fortresses from the Marianas struck yesterday at the Japanese oil refinery at Kudamatsu for the second time in 16 days, said a 20th Air Force communiqué. "A sizeable force" of B29s took part in the attack—a night raid—showering demolition bombs on the plants of the Japan Oil Company.

The port of Amori, on the northern tip of Honshu, is identified as one of the targets in yesterday's carrier aircraft attacks, said a Tokyo Radio message heard in New York. Its air bases in the vicinity were attacked for several hours. A total of 41 carrier aircraft also bombed air bases and railways in the adjacent prefecture of Akita, the Radio added.

St. Swithin's Day

ONE-THIRD of an inch of rain fell in Dublin yesterday, according to records taken at Rathfarnham Castle.

During Friday night's electric storm a fall of 1.44 inches was recorded.

LEOPOLD NOT TO ABDICATE

KING LEOPOLD of the Belgians who is in his lakeside villa at St. Wolfgang, near Salzburg, Austria, has refused to give up his throne, states Reuter. The two months' old constitutional deadlock in Belgium, which was expected to end this week-end, is to continue indefinitely.

M. Achille van Acker, the Belgian "caretaker" Prime Minister, announced the King's decision last night, and said that the King had also decided not to return to Belgium.

The resignation of M. van Acker's Government has been refused by the Regent, Prince Charles, and the Government will therefore continue in office.

The full text of M. van Acker's statement was:

"The Government delegation which went to Salzburg told the King that the Government was unanimously of opinion that in the case of non-abdication a Parliamentary debate was inevitable.

"The King has decided not to return to Belgium. He has also decided not to abdicate.

"There is therefore no definite decision. In consequence, the Government resumes its functions."

It is questioned in Brussels whether M. van Acker's statement that "no definite decision" had been reached represents the attitude of the King, whose decision not to return to Belgium is presumably only provisional, continues Reuter.

If out of the present confusion the anti-King parties are able to mobilise sufficient votes they will probably move in Parliament that King Leopold should be deprived of his throne.

The Cabinet is expected to decide to-day on the immediate summoning of Parliament. At this session the Socialists and Communists will probably produce their threatened evidence against the King, consisting of documents and of photographs alleged to show him playing golf and tennis with Germans.

Deadlock in Dublin Disputes

THE meat trade dispute continued over the week-end, and, so far as the master victuallers are concerned, they say they are prepared to carry on indefinitely. Master victuallers working in the supply depôts are paid £5 per week and the rest of the takings are being pooled until such time as the strike ends. The "pool" will then be divided.

The Workers' Union of Ireland, on the other hand, also is adamant in its attitude that there will be no return to work until the claim for a fortnight's holidays with pay has been conceded, as has been done in Cork and Limerick.

On Saturday there was an ample supply of meat for all requirements, but shopping was quiet. Actually, since the dispute started there has been a decided falling-off in the demand for all cuts of meat so far as the general public are concerned. It is estimated that only about one-third of the normal purchases are being made.

The threatened strike of pork butchers has been deferred to enable the employers further to consider the position.

If the demand for a fortnight's holidays for laundresses is not granted by next Saturday they will be called out by the Women Workers' Union.

SIMLA CONFERENCE FAILURE

FIELD-MARSHAL LORD WAVELL, Viceroy of India, takes full responsibility for the failure of the conference of India party leaders on the reorganisation of the Indian Cabinet.

Reporting to the final session at Simla that the Conference had failed, because Congress and the Muslim League had been unable to reach agreement on the allocation of Cabinet seats, Lord Wavell said:—"I wish to make it clear that the responsibility for the failure is mine. The main idea underlying the Conference was mine. If it had succeeded its success would have been attributed to me, and I cannot place the blame for its failure on any of the parties."

Lord Wavell outlined developments since the Conference opened on June 25th, explaining that a deadlock was reached after Mr. Jinnah, President of the Muslin League, declined to nominate names for the reorganised Council, because he failed to obtain an assurance that all Muslim seats would be held by members of the League.

Of the future of India Lord Wavell said: "I propose to take a little time to consider in what way I can best help India after the failure of the Conference. The war against Japan must be carried on and law and order must be maintained. Until I see my way once more clearly than I do now it may be difficult, perhaps impossible, to suggest any new move."

NO EARLY ELECTIONS

The statement by the Viceroy is interpreted by well-informed circles here to rule out the prospect of early elections. The necessity for restoring reality to the Indian political situation by an early test of the parties' strength has long been realised and urged by the party leaders, but it was brought on acutely by the Muslim League stand at the Conference, and was re-emphasised in a working committee resolution released at Simla yesterday.

Mr. Jinnah released last night the correspondence in which Lord Wavell, the Viceroy, declined to give a guarantee that all the Muslims chosen for the proposed Executive Council would necessarily be members of the Muslim League.

Mr. Jinnah, in his Press statement on Saturday, in which he accused virtually every political force in India, outside the Muslim League, of being either actively or negatively against the League, stated that he has the largest confidence in his own claim that "it is only the blind who cannot see that the All-India Muslim League is the only authoritative representative organisation of Musulmans."

Official circles say that a general election in India would have a disturbing effect on the life of the country, and for this reason none was held in 1939 and 1941, when they were due. Present indications are that none will be held until Japan is defeated or much nearer defeat.

COMMUNAL ISSUE

Political observers believe that Mr. Jinnah's policy is aimed at uniting Muslims on the communal issue, with a view to obtaining a strong vote for Pakistan—the separate Muslim State—at the next elections. Mr. Jinnah's association of the names of Sir Bertrand Glancy, Governor of the Punjab, and Khizar Hyat Khan, Punjab Premier and leader of the Unionist Party, was the first public mention of this aspect of Punjab politics. "There was a combination," said Mr. Jinnah, "consisting of Mr. Gandhi and the Hindu Congress, who stand for Indian Hindu national independence as one India, and the latest exponents of geographical unity, Lord Wavell and Glancy-Khan, who are bent upon creating disruption among Muslims in the Punjab."

Muslim League circles say that Sir Bertrand Glancy is "the strong man of the Punjab," and that the Unionist Party is a creation of his. The party, led by Khizar Hyat Khan, includes non-Muslims.

Rumours of another conference within six months are discounted by well-informed circles, who point out the impossibility of evading the present political divisions without first holding elections.

Caravan Swept Away By Thunderstorm

THREE lives were lost in Ireland as a result of the thunderstorm which swept over this country and Great Britain on Friday night.

The storm was the most severe experienced for many years. Reports from the country indicate that live-stock were killed in some districts, while crops and property were damaged.

Two families of itinerants named Brock and Lee who encamped beside the River Laney, near Macroom, Co. Cork, shortly after midnight, were caught in the flood, which hurled their caravans over the fences into adjoining fields.

The Brock family, comprising seven members, lost three of their number: Mrs. Eileen Brock (24), Susanne (3½), and James, two weeks old. Of the Lee family, all four members escaped, but they had a dreadful experience. The survivors were taken to Macroom Cottage Hospital and attended to.

One of the bodies was recovered from an upturned caravan. The other two are still being searched for along the River Sullane, which receives the Laney as a tributary.

Two three-year-old bullocks were killed by lightning at Ballylosky, Carndonagh, Co. Donegal. A cloudburst, which followed, caused the worst flooding within living memory. The main Derry-Carndonagh road was covered to a depth of three feet, and traffic was considerably delayed. Hundreds of acres of low-lying land were submerged, and crops swept away.

A chimney in the house of Mr. T. Greene, farmer, Toor, Latten, Tipperary, was struck by lightning and collapsed, most of the masonry falling outwards. Lightning, also, stripped the roof and damaged the gable end of the cottage belonging to Mrs. Riordan, widow, Ballinahow, Tipperary. No one in the house was injured. A pony, the property of Mr. James Vaughan, Burrough road, near Emly, was killed.

FIRE AND FLOOD

Yesterday, St. Swithin's Day, was heralded by one of the worst thunderstorms Londoners can remember. Whole areas were almost continuously floodlit in a blinding glare of lightning, while rain thrashed the ground. Fires and flood damage were reported.

John Wesley, aged about 40, Sudbury, was killed by lightning while sheltering under a tree at the height of the storm.

When lightning struck a house in North Hammersmith, London, the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Easton, were temporarily blinded and deafened. "It was over an hour before I could see or hear," said Mrs. Easton. "I am still suffering from deafness."

When a bungalow at Boxmoor, Hertfordshire, was destroyed by fire caused by lightning, a dog gave the alarm by scratching on a bedroom door. William Kippen (16) discovered the fire, and the family—Captain R. R. Kippen, his wife and son—escaped before the roof collapsed.

STEAMER STRUCK

The British steamer Tuareg, in the Thames at Gravesend, was struck by lightning and set on fire, and a fire at a celluloid factory in Southall caused a glow in the sky that was seen for many miles. Eight families were rendered homeless when lightning struck a block of flats at Ealing.

Saturday night's storm was also severe elsewhere in England. In Lincolnshire it lasted about four hours, and the rainfall was very heavy; but no damage was reported. Several houses were struck at Leicester, but there were no injuries. At one house the fireplace was blown out.

Election Quota Error in North

Owing to a mistake made in the quota, a recount took place over the week-end in the Northern Ireland election for Queen's University election, and the new declaration of the result will be made this morning by Mr. D. Lindsay Keir, Vice-Chancellor, who is the Returning Officer.

The original count took place on Friday, when it was stated that the total of the valid votes cast was 2,808, and the quota 561. The following were then declared elected: Dr. F. MacSorley (Ind.), 649; Mr. Howard Stevenson (Unionist), 580; Mrs. Irene Calvert (Ind.), 570, and Mr. Herbert Quin (Unionist), 567. It was later discovered that the valid votes totalled 3,008, and that the quota is 601.

All the candidates have been notified to attend this morning. It is stated that there will be no change in the representation as a result of the recount, although Mrs. Calvert will come into second place and Mr. Stevenson into third.

The Irish Plane (5,500) of Irish Shipping, Ltd., arrived in Dublin from Montreal yesterday.

French Would Like "Big Four" Meeting

The French do not hide their disappointment at not being asked to take part in the Potsdam Conference, which is generally expected to take Europe a step forward towards post-war equilibrium.

The chief problems for Allied solution are considered in Paris to be:

1—A common policy for the various German zones.
2—The future of Trieste.
3—A settlement of the Greek-Bulgarian rivalries.
4—The Dardanelles and Tangier, as part of the general problem of control of the Mediterranean.

The newspaper Résistance said: "It is feared that France's absence may produce solutions, not only for Germany, but for the Mediterranean, prejudicial to French interests."—(Reuter.)

Priest's Refusal to Give Evidence

When dismissing a Ballybunion woman's appeal against the dismissal of a claim for damages for the alleged seduction of her daughter, Mr. Justice Gavan Duffy, at the High Court on Circuit in Tralee, referring to the refusal of the Very Rev. W. Behan, P.P., Ballybunion, to give evidence again, said that the question was a far-reaching one which raised a matter of public policy. He felt that he could not deal with a matter like that on circuit, and would let it stand.

It will be recalled that when Fr. Behan adopted the same attitude at Listowel Circuit Court, Judge Barra O Briain fined him £10 for contempt and ordered him to pay within a week.

Suspect Caught in Wood

Ronald Bertram Mauri (32), a lorry driver, sought by the police in connection with the death of an 18-year-old Nottingham girl, was arrested in a Monmouthshire wood yesterday.

A police officer shot and wounded Mauri in the head, and he was taken to Monmouth Hospital. His arrest came after a hunt of five days, in which the military assisted the police who had chased him for nearly 100 miles.

Allies Must Hold Pacific Invasion Bases

BY OUR MILITARY CORRESPONDENT

THE Allied naval and air attack on Japan, culminating in the direct naval bombardment of the mainland, continues to grow in intensity at such a rate as to suggest the probability of a direct military assault within a reasonable time. The speed with which effective Japanese opposition has been broken down makes the ending of the Pacific war this year a practical possibility.

The defence of such a place as the island of Okinawa, held by a resolute garrison determined to fight to the last, lies in a different category to that of the Japanese mainland, where the presence of dense masses of civilians and the destruction of all that the Japanese hold dear is bound to affect both the morale and the power of manœuvre of the defenders. This is not to suggest that the Japanese will be easily overcome, as they may decide to commit a form of national mass suicide; but it must not be overlooked that Japan never has been invaded, and that the effect of invasion upon the Japanese is still an undetermined factor.

The major problem now to be determined by the Allies is not the question of the invasion of Japan, but rather that of where to set up the bases necessary to provide for the troops to be employed. Allied air and naval superiority makes it clear that the actual work of landing troops will not be difficult, but the question of assembling them within reasonable range of the Japanese mainland is more difficult. The invasion of Normany from bases in England, only one hundred miles away, illustrates this point.

The organisation of the Normandy invasion took well over one year to execute, and was facilitated by having for its base a large country with full modern industrial resources near the point of invasion. When this is taken into consideration it will be seen that the Allies are still faced by quite a problem in organising the Japanese invasion from bases which had first to be acquired and then developed.

The time lag which must take place while troops are being transported from Europe and the United States has already been commented upon; a further consideration which presents an identical problem is that of the transport of the necessary equipment, both sea and shore, which is essential if a large-scale landing is to succeed.

FIRST OBJECTIVE

At present the largest territory in Allied hands is the Philippine Islands with Okinawa as an advanced base. While the Philippines form an excellent base, they are too far from Japan to render them useful as a point of departure, while Okinawa is too small. It is probable, therefore, that a landing on the coast of China may be effected anywhere between Foochow and Shanghai. This would serve the dual purpose of linking up with the Chinese and providing one or more ports for invasion purposes. The reports of Japanese withdrawals in China to the north of the Yellow River serve to increase this possibility.

At the same time, air and naval attacks will probably be launched at the straits separating Japan from Korea with the object of isolating the most southerly main island of Kyushu from the continental mainland. From its position, Kyushu constitutes an obvious first Allied objective when the invasion takes place, and the present bombing is being directed equally at war factories and material and at the isolation of Kyushu from the next island. By its nature, Japan is vulnerable once the bases have been established and the troops and equipment collected.

British Minister in Northern Ireland

The British Minister of Food, Colonel the Right Hon. J. J. Llewellan, C.B.E., M.C., arrived in Northern Ireland on Saturday for a four-days' stay, during which he will visit food factories, packing stations, and other places.

Red Cross Trophy Won by Louth Team

THE perpetual Red Cross Trophy, presented by Dr. Douglas Hyde, when President of Ireland, was won by Co. Louth at the final competitions between Red Cross divisions at the headquarters of the Irish Red Cross Society, St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, last Saturday. Louth also won the Central Council Cup and the Dublin United Transport Company Cup.

Teams competing for the President's Trophy came from Clare, Dublin City, Limerick, Louth, Sligo and Waterford; and officers of the Army Medical Services, under the Director of Competitions (Colonel T. J. McKinney, Director of Army Medical Services), acted as judges. Teams from Dublin, Galway, Kerry, Louth, Sligo and Waterford City competed for the Central Council Cup; and from Clare, Dublin, Leitrim, Limerick, Louth and Waterford City for the Dublin United Transport Company Cup.

THE AWARDS

The marks were:—President's Trophy (for combined men and women's teams). Maximum, 1,000 marks—Louth, 889 7-12ths; Sligo, 800; Limerick, 798 1-12th; Dublin, 786 5-12ths; Waterford, 766 1-12th; Clare, 720 1-3rd.

Central Council Cup (women only). Maximum, 500—Louth, 418 1-12th; Sligo, 404; Kerry, 382 2-3rds; Galway, 369½; Waterford, 366 1-12th; Dublin, 346 1-12th.

D.U.T.C. Cup (men only). Maximum, 800—Louth, 471½; Dublin, 439½; Waterford, 400; Clare, 386½; Leitrim, 378; Limerick, 375½.

The teams were inspected by the President of the High Court, who is the Chairman of the Central Council. He was accompanied by Colonel T. J. McKinney, Colonel de Watteville, representative of the International Red Cross, Geneva, and Dr. Oliver Long, another representative of the International Red Cross, Geneva.

After the Inspection Colonel McKinney congratulated the teams.

Colonel de Watteville said that he had been deeply impressed by the excellent work that had been done by the Irish Red Cross. Many people believed that Red Cross work was a form of warfare, but that was entirely wrong. In peacetime the Red Cross had more important work to do, and he hoped that the Red Cross spirit would be fostered in the years to come, and would help in the suppressing of wars. The Irish Red Cross Society was the youngest member of the organisation, and already it had shown that it had a solid foundation, and had achieved great results in its work.

CUP PRESENTED

The six teams that had competed for the President's Trophy were then taken to Arus an Uachtaráin, where the Trophy was presented to the winners by the President at an informal reception, which was attended by Mr. de Valera; the Minister for Defence (Dr. Oscar Traynor); the President of the High Court, and other members of the Central Council of the Irish Red Cross Society and the divisional officers and county medical officers associated with the teams.

The President, who was accompanied by Mrs. O'Kelly, said that during the war the members of the Irish Red Cross Society did noble work in helping those who had been cast on our shores in distress and, when two of our own cities had felt the direct impact of destruction, the zeal and self-sacrifice of its members had not been found wanting. Out of its limited funds it had contributed generously by gifts of money, food, clothing and medical supplies to the relief of the suffering populations of Europe and Asia.

The President of the High Court thanked the President for having agreed to present the trophy, and said that, although the ending of the war in Europe naturally had slackened tension in this country, and there now was no immediate danger against which to prepare, the Central Council desired that in each area throughout the country divisional organisation should be maintained at least in sufficient strength to deal with incidents within their own area; and, in particular, with a view to preserving a nucleus of trained and enthusiastic personnel which could readily be expanded should the need arise.

Their energies, he said, must also be turned towards the anti-tuberculosis campaign at home, and towards the peace-time activities of the Society.

Dr. Anne McMahon, of Limerick, and Dr. Frank Geoghegan, who received the degree of M.D. at University College, Dublin, on Saturday.

Italy at War With Japan

Italy is now at war with Japan, said a Reuter message from Rome last night. A significant feature of the declaration is that Italy's collaboration with the Allies is unconditional. Previously the Italian Government had tried to link up participation in the war against Japan with the granting to Italy of the status of an ally.

The declaration places the Italian Fleet at the disposal of the Allies, and plans for recruiting trained airmen and a ground force of volunteers have also been mentioned. Italy's shipping was already at the disposal of the Allies for all purposes, including the war against Japan.

Whether the assistance of Italian warships in the actual fighting will now be accepted is not yet known, but the Italian Navy appears to be ready to fight with enthusiasm if this will help to improve Italy's international position.

Dublin Tickets Win Big Sweep Prizes

Two officials of the Hibernian Bank, College Green, Dublin, were the lucky holders of the ticket which drew Prince Toi and won them £10,000 in the Irish Hospitals' Sweepstake on the Leopardstown Hurdle on Saturday. They were Mr. Desmond Power, a native of Co. Waterford, and Mr. Arthur Mongan, of Dublin.

The big prizewinners were:—£10,000—"Tom and Pat," Dagenham; D. V. MacDonald, W. H. Stanford and M. Y. Thomas, Kingston-on-Thames; "Thankful," Ilford; "Maureen," Leeds; Fred Walley, Altrincham; "Six Twerps," Bromley; "Midas," Govan; "Farther West," Coventry; "Double or Nothing," College Green, Dublin.

£3,000 each—"Myself Only," Tykillin Kyle, Wexford; "Misfortune," Belmont, Gardiner's Hill, Cork; "Lucky Silver," Alexandria, Dunbartonshire; "Ty-I," 14 Berkeley street, Dublin; "The Ridge," London; "We Three A Mac Lean," 14 Leyland place, Dublin; "Half a Ton of Soke," Ulverston; Daniel H. Dunne, Birmingham; "Four Blacks," Rickey.

£1,000 each—"Boomerang," Longham, Dorset; "Stoops," Leicester; "White and Brown," Newtownstewart, Tyrone; "Peg," Brookville, Edenderry; "Perfect Jonah," London; "More Luck," Castlepollard; "Don," Belfast; "Flip," Chorley, Lancashire; Calvin, Bedlington, Northumberland.

Of the total prize money, Great Britain got £140,748; Eire, £36,443, and Northern Ireland, £5,300; £122 went to America, and £287 to unknown destinations.

Anglo-American Film Agreement

A joint production and distribution arrangement with Mr. J. Arthur Rank's motion picture group in Britain was announced in Hollywood by R.K.O. Pictures, Incorporated, yesterday.

Under the terms of the agreement, which was concluded by Mr. Rank during his present American visit, a series of major pictures are to be produced in Britain with British and American casts and direction. R.K.O. will handle distribution in the U.S., Britain, Central and South America.

Fraternisation Ban is Lifted

Fraternisation with the Germans for British and American troops throughout Germany and Austria was allowed from six o'clock on Saturday night, and now British soldiers in German towns may "engage in conversation with adult Germans in the streets and public places."

Field-Marshal Montgomery, in a statement to his troops, and later in a broadcast to the German people, announcing the lifting of the ban, said that great progress had been made in eliminating the Nazi influence in occupied Germany, and in removing prominent Nazis from all responsibility in German life.

Giving his interpretation of the relaxation of the ban, a senior staff officer said that it did not include playing cards, drinking or walking with the Germans.

Six Drowned on English Beach

Three girls and a youth, as well as two men who attempted to save them, were drowned on Tynemouth (Northumberland) beach yesterday.

The dead persons are:—Grace Knox (14), Hunter street, Wallsend; Marion Weatherstone (10), Elsdon terrace, Percy Main; Roland Caush (16), Grey street, North Shields; Audrey Fuller (14), Washington, Co. Durham; Norman Parkinson, a soldier stationed at Tynemouth, and Jack Grey (34), of Walker road, Newcastle. All the bodies except that of Grey have been recovered. The three girls and the youth were bathing close together when they were struck by a heavy wave. Parkinson and Grey went to the rescue, and lost their lives.

Victory Parade — British troops will march in a victory parade tomorrow or soon after, said Major General Lyne, Commander of the British sector of Berlin, yesterday.

In the Service of Beauty...

COTY LOOK AHEAD

THE true creator is never idle. Though manufacture of perfumes and many of our beauty aids is no longer possible, dreams of fresh loveliness and charm already exist in the minds of our experts. Novel and exciting perfumes and preparations that will perform an even greater service to beauty, when conditions permit the realisation of our post-war plans. In the meantime, we are still able to maintain a minimum service which provides every essential for the preservation of beauty. Although in emergency packs, COTY preparations conform to the pre-war standard of COTY quality.

Prince Toi Won As He Liked

BEFORE racing began at Leopardstown on Saturday, fears were expressed that the ground would be soft, and that that would play havoc with the chance of Prince Toi, favourite for the £1,000 handicap hurdle race.

Nobody need have worried. The going was very good, and Prince Toi justified his favouritism in an exemplary manner. He won, under top weight, like a very brilliant hurdler.

After a false start, the 23 runners broke the line together, and very soon Emerald and Clover Hill settled down in front, with all the others, jockeying for places, in a closely-packed bunch. Thus they ran until they went out of sight behind the houses.

Here Raffin, Highland Reel and Distel were well placed, and Prince Toi was lying sixth on the rails, jumping flippantly, and moving effortlessly. Reappearing, Emerald and Clover Hill were still racing together in front of Raffin, followed by Distel, Prince Toi, Northern Dandy and Charles's Wain, with Carlist and King of the Jungle steadily improving their positions.

Shortly afterwards, Clover Hill dropped back, and Raffin and Distel were on Emerald's heels; but Prince Toi was making ground at every hurdle and running so freely that Brabazon allowed him to join Distel before they reached the second last bend. At that point Emerald and Raffin were well beaten.

Coming to the second last flight Prince Toi and Distel were just ahead of Charles's Wain, Carlist and Keep Faith, and, on landing, Prince Toi shot into the lead. Distel tried to stay with him, but was two and a half lengths behind at the last hurdle, and on the flat he could not quicken.

Charles's Wain, however, made a determined effort, and, under the whip, pulled out a considerable turn of speed. Yet never once did he make the slightest impression on Prince Toi, who never faltered, and passed the post a very easy winner by two lengths, with Charles's Wain a length in front of Distel.

Prince Toi gave a flawless exhibition of hurdling. Brabazon rode him beautifully, never hurried him, and timed his effort perfectly. He was full of praise for his mount.

He said: "It was lucky for me it was a false start, for my horse was crossed and nearly knocked down. He was completely unbalanced. The second time all was well. He was always well placed and never gave me a moment's anxiety.

"He really is a marvellous jumper. He would keep jumping up to the leaders; then I would steady him, and at the next he would jump up to them again. He never put a foot wrong all the way."

KILKENNY SHINE IN THE RAIN

By PAT'O.

KILKENNY 5-12 DUBLIN.... 3-4

THOUGH rain fell heavily at Croke Park yesterday and continued through the whole programme, Kilkenny's neat hurlers revelled in the heavy going; their short-arm strokes won every time against Dublin's slow swings. Kilkenny, out of the picture since 1940, have come back with a flourish.

Gargan, Langton, O'Brien, Grace and Kennedy were the pick of a very promising side, who should reach the final, despite Galway's strength. Dublin looked sluggish and disheartened in the last quarter when Kilkenny scored at will.

Kilkenny opened fast, and Langton hit a high ball to the 14 mark, where O'Brien stood, and doubled a brilliant shot to the net. Within five minutes Kilkenny were 2 goals clear, when Mulcahy crashed a corner ball out of Donegan's reach. Langton's point put Kilkenny further ahead.

Dublin quickly responded, Hassett placing Ryan to drive a terrific ball to the net. O'Brien and Lyons exchanged minors; Gray and Langton raised points at either end. Kilkenny's superiority in attack was manifest. Langton (2 frees) and Kennedy had points. Close to half-time Lyons, from far out, had Dublin's third point. Half-time score:—Kilkenny 2 goals 5 points, Dublin 1 goal 3 points.

Kilkenny defied the rain in the second half. Scores mounted from neat half-arm hurling and shrewd attack — Gargan and Langton crashed scores through. Dublin came back for a brief session when Cantwell 1-1, and Gray 1 goal, gave life to the game. Soon Kilkenny took full control in very vital part—Gargan, Riedy, Walton and Langton notched score after score, in an uneven finish.

Minor Hurling—Dublin 5-4, Kilkenny 3-1.

At Thurles—Munster Hurling final—Tipperary 4-3 (15), Limerick 2-6 (12).

At Clones.—Ulster S.F. semi-final—Cavan 5-12, Donegal 2-4.

At Mohill.—Connaught M.F. semi-final—Leitrim 3-4, Roscommon 1-5.

19-Year-Old Golfer Beats Carr

BY J. P. ROONEY

NINETEEN-YEAR-OLD Vincent Herlihy (8), of the Clontarf Club, has come prominently into the golfing news. On Saturday, at the Castle, he beat Joseph Carr (plus 1), East of Ireland champion, in the final for the John Lumsden Memorial Cup by 2 and 1, over thirty-six holes. In receipt of seven strokes on each round, he made good use of them, winning eight of the holes and halving five; he did not require the stroke at the other.

For the first eighteen his approximate score was 77, and for the seventeen holes of the second round, 72—not bad for a youth who last October, on finishing at Clongowes Wood College, joined Clontarf Club, and in nine months worked his way down to 8.

Carr, whose first attempt it was to win the trophy, made a very gallant effort to concede the heavy odds. On the first round he had 69 (34 and 35), but was only one hole to the good. The standard scratch score is 72 and bogey 74.

When the Sutton man lost his lead at the 3rd hole on the second round, the match, which up to then seemed likely to go to Carr through the wearing-down process, began to take a distinct turn in favour of his rival. Carr, in fact, from that on never regained the lead, and entering on the last nine he was two down with strokes to concede at the 11th, 14th and 16th.

Carr got a hole back at the 10th. His opponent did not require the stroke at the 11th, which he won in a 4 for a two holes lead.

Carr holed from across the 13th green for a 3, but Herlihy holed a longish putt for the half to save the most critical situation in the match. He had a brilliant 2 at the 15th to stretch his lead, and the stroke at the 16th settled the issue of a very fine match—one of the best of the 27 finals for the cup I have seen.

BANGOR SWIMMING

At a gala in Bangor on Saturday evening the men's three-metre springboard diving championship of Ulster was retained by J. Lenfesty (Islander). Miss A. Cousins (Queen's) won the ladies' 100 yards championship of Ulster.

MUNSTER CRICKET

C.I. and Bohemians played a drawn match in their Senior League engagement at The Mardyke, Cork, on Saturday. Score:—Bohemians 118 for 8, declared (F. N. Hall 6 for 59), C.I. 105 for 9 (R. N. McQuillan 5 for 60).

MOTOR CYCLING

E. Lyons (Co. Kildare) won the Experts' Class at the motor cycle races at Bangor on Saturday, averaging 48.24 m.p.h. on a 498 c.c. Triumph twin. C. McCandless (498 Triumph) won the Semi-Experts' race (46.07 m.p.h.) and S. Brand (498 Triumph) the Novices' race (43.62 m.p.h.).

ULSTER CRICKET

There were some excellent bowling performances in Ulster cricket, the best being that of Lewis, who took 5 for 9 runs for Creagh against North Down. H. Armstrong took 5 for 18 against Holywood and N. Strain (C.P.A.) had 5 for 19 against Cliftonville, who were beaten by 1 run. C.P.A. 130, Cliftonville 129; Woodvale 113, Holywood 59; N.I.C.C. 104, Queen's University 110 for 3; North Down 68, Creagh 70 for 4.

BELFAST ATHLETIC TEST

Athletes from U.C.D., U.C.C. and Queen's took part in an inter-'varsity contest at Cherryvale, Belfast, on Saturday, where Queen's won seven of the ten events. Adedeji (Queen's) won the high jump (6ft. 2ins.) and long jump (21ft. 2ins.). F. Browne (U.C.D.) won the discus with 120ft. 3ins.; J. Little (U.C.D.) won the hurdles in 15 3-5 secs., and T. Daly (U.C.D.) won the 440 yards in 53 1-5 secs.

YACHTING

Sailing conditions in Dublin Bay on Saturday were on the heavy side. Mermaids, Wags and smaller craft were forced to race inside harbour, where they completed their courses in record time. Six Twenty-Ones started, all sporting top-sails, but only Naneen (T. H. Roche) carried hers throughout to win a hard race. Early on Oola, when leading, was dismasted, and was towed to her moorings.

Other winners were:—Seventeens, Eileen (J. J. Macken); Cruisers, Windward (J. J. O'Leary); Mermaids, Iolar (Purcell and Doran); Water Wags, Nandor; Dinghies, Gillian; Sandry Boats, Woodcock.

At Skerries Regatta Huzure (M. Chadwick) finished first in the Cruisers' Race from Howth to Skerries, and the remainder of the programme was postponed.

Distel, third in the Leopardstown Handicap Hurdle on Saturday, might have finished nearer the winner, Prince Toi, but, for cutting a shin when he hit the third last hurdle.

Holder Beaten In Four Miles

By T. W. MURPHY.

THE rain (with a capital R) was the feature of the N.A.C.A. championship meeting at Dundalk yesterday. It came down in a steady downpour from 2 o'clock with the start of the first event, and continued until the undecided part of the programme was abandoned at 6 o'clock. It ceased as Dundalk's visitors made their way to the railway station.

Best of the day's races was the four miles championship. With the best field that has been seen in the race for many years, John Barry, the American-born youth, who has still to reach his 20th birthday, took the title to his native County Tipperary in 3 seconds over 20 minutes—two seconds better than Martin Egan, of Gort, did in winning last year, and within 18 3-5th secs. of the 58-year-old record of Tommy Conneff, made at Ballsbridge in his memorable match with Carter, the American.

After Appleby and Egan had shared the pace-making for a mile, Barry being meanwhile at the back of the field, the Tipperary boy woke up. He livened things to such an extent that Downey, three times holder of the title until last year, retired. In another mile only Barry and Egan remained in the race—with a chance.

Egan fell on the slippery ground with a mile to go, and Barry kept increasing the distance between them to the finish. In justice to Egan it should be said that he finished limping.

Barry is a runner full of promise. He has the junior and senior cross-country championships to his credit, and now we are told that his best distance is a mile. We shall see at Ballinasloe in August, when the second half of the championships is decided.

CREDITABLE EFFORT

Dave Guiney did not make the expected record in putting the shot. He won with the respectable putt of 45ft. 9½ins.—not bad for a man who had one of his feet bound with adhesive tape to counteract a strain he received a week ago. Private Kelly, the diminutive runner from the Curragh, retained his 100 yards title, but did not run in the 220. This was won by A. T. Daly (U.C.D.).

P. J. Flanagan (Kells) recovered the half-mile title he held in 1940 and 1941. Tom Wall won the high jump for the sixth successive time with a jump of 5ft. 10ins—not bad considering the state of the ground.

Clontarf won by 7 runs.

HUTTON'S CENTURY

Feature of the first day's play at Lord's on Saturday in the third "Victory Test" match between England and Australia was a brilliant century by Hutton, who scored 104 out of England's total of 254. Cristofani took 4 wickets for 43 and Miller 3 for 44.

TITLE FOR MOYLAN

By P. D. MacWEENEY.

REVEALING himself to be a first-class player, E. J. Moylan, the young American naval officer, won the Irish Close Singles Championship at Fitzwilliam on Saturday, beating C. A. Kemp in the final by 6-4, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Moylan proved to have a far stronger equipment of strokes than was anticipated. Taking the ball at the earliest moment, he possessed the length and pace which betokens the top class; his speed about the court was exceptional, and he had the ability to unleash his best ground shots whenever Kemp came to the net.

In holding the first two sets to 4-all, and taking the third, Kemp played as well as he has ever done, but he was under pressure all the way, and never really appeared to have a chance of victory.

THE PACE TOLD

His service was his most useful weapon, and he managed to keep on reasonably level terms until the fourth set, but then the pace and pressure told.

Men's Singles Championship.—Semi-final—E. J. Moylan bt. F. W. Peard, 6-4, 6-2. Final—Moylan beat C. A. Kemp, 6-4, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Prospects in Building Trade Shares

ALTHOUGH quiet conditions prevailed in other centres, Irish securities were particularly brisk on the Dublin Stock Exchange during the past week.

The building industry has a bright future, and shares in companies closely allied to this industry should do well. All these shares are in keen demand. Cement Ordinary are being steadily supported at 52/-. On the present dividend of 3 per cent. the return for money is small, but the outlook is so promising the shares are well worth attention as a lock-up industrial investment.

T. and C. Martin Ordinary are tightly held, but a few days ago came on offer and fetched 65/-. On last year's dividend of 12½ per cent. they yield £3 16/11 per cent. This company is soundly managed and has a good financial record. It carries on business as timber merchants and builders' providers, and consequently should benefit considerably from any revival of activity in the building industry.

Most people nowadays like to own their own houses, and many of them take the opportunities offered by building societies to make their purchases. These companies are doing well and the prospects are promising when building schemes are put into operation again. In this category Irish Civil Service (Permanent) Building Society are the most popular. These £25 shares are now standing around 75 and are considered almost gilt-edged. Over a long number of years the earning capacity has been remarkably steady, and since 1938 holders have received a tax-free dividend of 9 p.c., which is the equivalent of £13 7/6, gross, with income tax at 7s. 6d. in the pound. On this basis, they give a return of about £4 1/9 gross, and are a first-class holding. Of course, there are other Building Society shares, but as these are not marketable on the Dublin Stock Exchange, it is not possible to give any advice on them.

A bright feature last week was the strong buying of Todd Burns, Ltd., Ordinary, which put the price sharply ahead to 19s. 9d. Since 1939 this company, together with most other Irish drapery concerns, has done extremely well since the beginning of the "emergency." In 1942 the Ordinary shareholders received a dividend of 6 per cent., and this has been maintained up to now, but previous to 1942 no Ordinary dividend was paid for several years. Trading for this year so far is believed to be excellent. The Ordinary dividend cannot be raised above 6 per cent. under the limitation of dividends. The improvement in profits will, no doubt, be utilised to build up a sound financial position. At the current price, the return is just over 6 per cent.

The Railway market is still attracting a good deal of attention pending the interim dividend announcements. Great Northern Ordinary has been pushed further ahead to 29, and, if the company should declare an interim payment on the Preference stock, it would not be surprising if it went still higher. The traffics during the past few months are believed to have been rising, and during the next couple of months they should be more than well maintained owing to the heavy holiday traffic. The Ordinary looks to hold good speculative possibilities.

After earlier strength, Coras Iompair Common inclined to ease off due to a little profit-taking, but talk of an interim payment on this stock is still heard in the market. All the company's trains and buses are taxed to capacity. It is generally believed that the company is doing very well.

Indefinite Trend On Stock Markets

FROM OUR LONDON FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT

WITHIN another 14 days, the result of the general election will be known, and markets may be expected to take a definite trend. Apart, possibly, from Home Rails, where the question of whether nationalisation is to be, or not to be, is thought to be momentous, movements in prices have been comparatively moderate. Actual business has been on a limited scale, neither buyers nor sellers showing inordinate anxiety. Again, with the exception of Home Railway stocks, most active securities are again after the fluctuations of the past two weeks practically "as you were."

AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY.

Mr. Sopwith's attitude regarding the future of the aircraft industry should do something to reassure holders of aircraft shares as to their security. The Hawker-Siddeley group, of which he is chairman, holds a leading position in the industry, and was earning steady profits before the vast expansion necessitated by the war took place. Similarly it can be shown that other companies, such as the De Havilland, Handley Page and Bristol, were well established before they were called upon to go all out for war construction. No doubt, competition will be exceedingly keen, and much money will be spent on research and experiment in the endeavour to provide the most suitable aircraft for civil aviation.

At present prices, Aircraft shares offer returns far in excess of other Industrial shares. Hawker-Siddeley 5s. shares, for instance, at 18s. 6d., return over 8½ p.c. on the basis of the 32½ p.c. dividend; Handley Page 5s. shares over 9 p.c. at 22s., and Bristol 10s. shares £6 13s. p.c. at 15s. Such returns indicate doubts regarding the future, but for those who fall into line with the thoughts of Mr. Sopwith they offer investment opportunities.

DUFAY-CHROMEX FUTURE.

Optimistic hopes regarding the future of Dufay-Chromex, Ltd., are expressed by the chairman in a statement accompanying the annual report and accounts. Profits earned in the past year totalled £57,719, after providing £50,000, against nil, for contingencies. The previous year's total was £23,243. The whole of this profit is being placed to reserve, leaving the debit balance of £253,308 to be written off under the reconstruction scheme recently published. The company has been very active during the war years in producing a variety of products. The plants are at present working to full capacity, only the labour position preventing the company from taking further contracts. The Ord. 5/- shares have been changing hands at about 4/- and the 6 p.c. £1 Pref. at 24/-.

News in Brief

Sunshine Holidays—On Saturday last, 110 boys were taken on a holiday to Sunshine House, Balbriggan, by the Society of St. Vincent de Paul Sunshine Fund. Already this year 420 boys and 426 girls have enjoyed a holiday at Sunshine House.

Teachers' Tribute—Mr. J. Perry, M.A., late inspector of schools, Roscommon, received a presentation from the teachers of the area to mark his retirement from the service.

Ennis Clubs Fined £10 Each.—"There were 17 persons drinking in the club at 1 a.m. on June 30th," said Superintendent J. O'Flynn at Ennis District Court, when prosecuting the Oddfellows' Club, Ennis, for a breach of the licensing regulations. A fine of £10 was imposed. The O'Connell Club, Ennis, was fined £10 for a similar offence.

Ministry's Mistake—A mistake by the Northern Ministry of Home Affairs in sanctioning a retaining fee to Miss Robinson, matron of Omagh Workhouse, when the military took over that institution six years ago, will now cost the Omagh Board of Guardians £320. The clerk said that the Ministry had now discovered the mistake, and the Board must be prepared to meet the liability.

Death from Electric Shock—A verdict in accordance with the medical evidence was returned at an inquest on Edward O'Brien (25), Duffry Gate, Enniscorthy, who was electrocuted on Saturday while using a portable electric hand-drill on the chassis of a car.

Clerical Appointment.—The Most Rev. Dr. Fogarty, Bishop of Killaloe, has appointed the Very Rev. John O'Donoghue, P.P., Kinnety, to be a member of the Diocesan Chapter.

Teachers Discouraged—Speaking on Saturday at a meeting of the Cloghan, Banagher, Branch of the I.N.T.O., Mr. James Mulhair, Chairman, said that they welcomed Mr. Derrig's Dail statement that consideration is being given by the Government to a new scale of salaries for national teachers. They sincerely hoped Mr. Derrig meant what he said. The Minister's qualification, "when the emergency is passed," was a most discouraging and disquieting clause.

Salvation Army Meeting—Major Alester W. Smith, B.A., opened his ten-day revival meetings, under the auspices of the Salvation Army of Rathmines, on Saturday evening. Adjutant Albert Speed was in charge of the meeting.

BRAY DOG SHOW

The Limited Dog Show, held in aid of the new church on Saturday at the Esplanade, Bray, attracted a good entry. Mr. V. J. McDonagh's Irish Setter, Patricia of Perrystown, was adjudged best in Show. Mr. W. J. Bunyan's Scottish Terrier, Robert Bruce, was best Terrier.

MANCHESTER MARKETS

Reports that further supplies of Danish produce are being shipped to Britain now cover bacon and hams, and it is stated that 30,000 pigs are being slaughtered each week. Butter production for the first six months of this year was slightly less than two-thirds of the 1939 production. Allocations of Eire, Northern Irish and English eggs fairly well maintained, with deliveries steady in the Manchester area.

Fat cattle were fairly plentiful at Mode Wheel, the Government grading and collecting centre, mainly cows of average quality. A small supply of calves was also entered. Store cattle in poor demand. Quotations are generally unchanged, with bulling heifers mainly inquired for. In Irish stores, demand is only for exceedingly choice bunches, which clear readily, other descriptions being hard to sell.

The limited, but fairly regular, arrivals of Eire salmon are in brisk request, and clear readily at the full control price of 3/9 per lb. No new developments are apparent in the position of dead poultry from Eire, which is being marketed in small quantities, with supplies somewhat irregular. Demand, however, is well maintained at maximum official rates. Fowls, chickens, ducks, geese 1/9; turkeys 2/9 per lb., all wholesale.

Saturday Closing.—New York Stock Exchange closed on Saturday, and will be closed on all succeeding Saturdays up to and including Saturday, September 1st.

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS.

We have a book . . . . a book in which we keep a list of customers' special requirements in fine jewellery.

Even with the largest stock in the world it would be impossible always to supply a particular article on demand.

We have a fine stock, but we still cannot conjure up fine jewellery from a top-hat—hence our book.

As soon as you tell us what you want in jewellery, we go to great pains to obtain it for you. When we have done so, we notify you and you are invited to inspect it, without obligation. Our aim is to facilitate both the selling and buying public to their best advantage. May we add your name to our list?

We are constantly buying for stock fine silver and plated ware, diamonds and gem-set rings, brooches, bangles, earrings, fine watches and clocks.

Registered parcels invited.

DUBLIN BOARD OF ASSISTANCE. APPOINTMENT OF NURSES. The Commissioners for the Dublin Board of Assistance will appoint forty-four nurses to the staff of St. Clare's Hospital, Ballymun road, Glasnevin, for a period of twelve months at the expiration of which the employment may be renewed for a further twelve months. St. Clare's Hospital deals with the treatment of infants suffering from Gastro-Enteritis.

APPLICATIONS for appointment will be considered from:

(1) Registered Sick Children's Nurses or
(2) Registered General Nurses who are also registered as Sick Children's Nurses, Fever Nurses or Maternity Nurses.

QUALIFICATIONS (GENERAL) — Each candidate must:

(a) be of good character.
(b) have attained the age of 21 years.
(c) be free from any defect or disease which would render her unsuitable to hold the office and be in a state of health such as would indicate a reasonable prospect of ability to render regular and efficient service.
(d) have been registered after 31st July, 1925, as a result of an examination in the Register of Nurses kept by the General Nursing Council, and be at present so registered;
(e) be of the female sex.
(f) be either unmarried or a widow.

SALARY: £81 per annum with Emergency Bonus (at present 6/- per week). In addition £25 per annum will be paid in lieu of residence as nurses are required to reside outside the hospital.

ADDITIONS TO ABOVE SALARY:

(1) All meals are provided at the hospital. In accordance with the provision of the Local Authorities (Officers) Regulations, 1943, nurses on sick leave or annual leave will be paid an allowance in lieu of rations not drawn at the rate of £52 per annum.
(2) Uniform allowance of £9 per annum.
(3) The usual official items of uniform will be laundered free.

EXTRA ALLOWANCES: An additional £10 per annum will be paid to general trained nurses who are also registered sick children's nurses, and an additional £5 per annum to general trained nurses who are also registered fever or maternity nurses, but only one such additional allowance will be paid to any nurse.

CHARGE NURSES: Three nurses will be selected from the full staff to act as Charge Nurses, and an extra £15 per annum will be paid to those so selected.

In the event of a reduction in the number of patients at St. Clare's, nurses who become redundant, will be transferred for duty to St. Kevin's Institution, James's street, and, while employed there, will not be paid the "Extra Allowances" referred to above.

Each candidate selected for appointment will be required to undergo a medical examination, and to pay the cost of the same, which is 10s. 6d. No appointment will be confirmed unless the Board's Medical Referee certifies that the candidate is physically fit.

Applications, giving details of training, training schools, qualifications, experience, registration (numbers and dates), and date of birth, are to be lodged with me here not later than 10.30 o'clock a.m. on 27th July, 1945.

Candidates may be required to attend here for interview, but travelling or other expenses incurred will not be refunded by the Commissioners.

By Order: JAMES E. S. CONDON, Secretary.

INDIA LOSES A CHANCE

Lord Wavell's honourable effort to further the cause of Indian independence has ended in failure. The responsibility, he argues, is his own, just as the credit for success, if success had been attained, would have been his. That is an over-modest attitude. It required courage and a sense of statesmanship to make the attempt at all, and nothing but credit can attach to the Viceroy. The breakdown was due to one thing, and to one thing only—the unyielding spirit of the Muslim League, headed by Mr. Mohammed Ali Jinnah. The Viceroy's proposal, which was issued as a White Paper by the British Government about a month ago, was that his Executive Council should be selected from prominent Indians, and that the portfolio of Defence alone should be retained in British hands. In all outward respects, India's position would be very close to that of a Dominion of the Commonwealth; she would appoint diplomatic representatives abroad, and a British High Commissioner would watch over British interests. A few days after the publication of this plan Lord Wavell called a conference at Simla, in order to sound the feeling of the political parties. The Congress Party, representing the mass of Hindus, who in their turn form by far the greater part of the population of India, was ready to accept it as a very practical step towards the realising of its separatist ambitions. Mr. Jinnah, from the beginning, was wary. He held that the proposed move was likely to prejudice his party's demand for "Pakistan"—that is to say, for the partition of India and the creation therein of an independent Muslim State—and he declined the Viceroy's invitation to supply a panel of names for the Muslim members of the Executive Council.

Thus handicapped from the outset, Lord Wavell refused to give up hope, and tried to constitute a provisional Executive, including a Muslim panel, on his own account. He already had made an immense concession to Muslim opinion. Although the Muslims constitute hardly more than a quarter of the entire population of British India, he had conceded them parity on his proposed Council with the huge Hindu majority — five Muslim, against five Hindu, members. This was certainly treatment that ought to have softened Mr. Jinnah's heart, but it was not enough. He insisted that not merely should there be five Muslim seats, but that they should be filled by members of his Muslim League. As it happens, by no means all the Muslims of India pay allegiance to the Muslim League; a great number are faithful adherents of the Congress Party; and Lord Wavell, fairly enough, held that two of the Muslim seats should be apportioned to Congress, and the remaining three to the League. Thereupon, Mr. Jinnah, so to speak, gathered up his papers and stormed out. He would have nothing—despite the great difference in electoral backing—but equality of representation between his own and the Congress parties. He refuses pointblank to trust the good faith either of the Congress Party, or of the Viceroy himself, one of whose principal functions in the projected Council would be to protect the position both of the Muslim, and of every other, minority. In these circumstances, the Viceroy saw no point in a further effort, and has preferred, as it appears, to abandon the entire scheme.

What is to happen now? The Congress Party evidently had hoped that Lord Wavell would persevere with the plan, even without the Muslim League's co-operation, but the Viceroy's statement of last Saturday implies that he has dropped it for good—or, at least, for the time being. There are too many dangers in the way of a plan that lacks the support of the Muslim minority. A fresh outburst either of anti-British or of inter-racial rioting could not be tolerated at a moment when India is an important element in the war against Japan. For the same reason, it is thought most improbable that the Viceroy will dare at present to sanction new elections—even though there have been no elections since 1934, and the actual state of Indian opinion is by no means adequately known. From nearly every point of view, the failure of Lord Wavell's scheme is regrettable. It was offered to the Indians without prejudice to the definite pledges which have been made to them in the past—without prejudice, in particular, to the "Cripps proposals" of three years ago. Britain has assured nationalist India that she will be at liberty after the war to choose her own Constitution within the limits of Dominion status; the only standing condition is that her parties must agree. Lord Wavell's projected Council would have given the parties an opportunity not merely to practice themselves in the technique of government, but to ascertain how many of their aims were reconcilable and how many, in fact, were divergent. Our own country has suffered so often from the ill effects of dissension that it can sympathise with another which, through the same weakness, has thrown away a real chance to attain its best ends.

"No Smoking!"

Within recent years, the habit of smoking has become so universal that the number of places in which it may not be indulged has dwindled almost to nothing. The time when, in any well-regulated family, the men had to go out to the garden to smoke has passed long since; and there are few drawing-rooms left where the presence of ash-trays does not indicate the mute assent of the hostess. In our own Gate and Abbey Theatres, those who wish to smoke must remove themselves to the vestibules; but in other theatres and in the picture-houses patrons may "fog" away to their heart's content, and those who do not enjoy tobacco themselves have to put up with the vicarious savouring of it. In the lower decks of buses and trams the rule against smoking is enforced very strictly. In trains, on the other hand, the "No Smoking" label in the majority of cases is ignored altogether. It must have been something of a shock, then, for a gentleman who insisted on consuming a cigarette in a non-smoking compartment on the Dublin-Bray line, to find himself haled before the District Justice, and fined the sum of £2, with costs and expenses bringing the total up to £4 8s. The rule may have been dormant, but was not dead; and the case will bring a shudder to all those who have been accustomed to disregard it. The reports available do not say whether the defendant in question was alone in the non-smoking compartment. If he was, the enforcement of a rule which was designed to increase the comfort of fellow-passengers was a rather unnecessary piece of punctilio. On the other hand, there are people still who dislike tobacco smoke, even at second-hand; and they are entitled to assume that, when they seek the refuge of a non-smoking compartment, they will not be betrayed. In practice, the situation would seem to be met quite adequately by the simple inquiry: "Do you mind if I smoke?"

FILM NOTES

By Our Cinema Correspondent

THERE are very few top-flight film stars who can equal Gary Cooper's professional longevity. For almost fifteen years he has been consistently successful in films that have ranged from sentimental drama to sophisticated comedy, and, although his pictures have not always been worthy of him, he has never given a poor performance.

His characterisation of Sergeant York (Capitol), American hero of the 1914-18 War, is one of the finest things that this most reliable actor has done. Alvin York is a complex person; half mystic, half caveman—entirely conscientious and as courageous as a lion. A few months before conscription reached his remote Tennessee settlement, he "got religion," and became moral clay in the hands of the local pastor (Walter Brennan), who conducted evangelistic services almost undistinguishable—in their elementary fervour—from jam sessions. York feels that it is his duty to resist conscription, but the pastor does some skilful word-juggling, and talks him into the American Army. York's marksmanship at a Georgia training camp amazes his superiors, and he is a fully-fledged corporal before his unit sails for France, where he wins never-to-be-forgotten glory by wiping out or capturing unprecedentedly large numbers of Germans.

Cooper makes this physical giant with the mind of a child a sympathetic and comprehensible character, and I doubt if any other actor could have done this. The film is admirable technically, and deserves the success it is sure to enjoy in Dublin. It was directed by Howard Hawks, who was responsible for "His Girl Friday" and "Ball of Fire."

Western Approaches (Theatre Royal) is a beautifully photographed story of convoy work in the Atlantic, acted entirely by men of the Royal, the Netherlands and the British Merchant Navies. There is little action until the climax—a duel between a merchantman and a U-boat—but the tense preparatory sequences are invested with an admirable balance of pathos and comedy. The technicolour is crude at times—at others it reaches new heights of delicate beauty.

The supporting feature, Lake Placid Serenade, follows the conventional pattern of previous ice-capades. It is enjoyable, if you allow your critical faculties to relax.

Target for To-night (Astor), photographed some years ago by the Crown Film Unit, is a brief record of an R.A.F. raid on Freihausen; the planning that preceded it, the raid itself, and the return flight. I felt that the traditional British flair for understatement had been carried a little too far in this documentary, but its economy of detail is, undoubtedly, effective. The supporting farce, Turnabout, a variation on Anstey's "Vice Versa" theme, is too thin to justify its considerable length, but it has some pert comedy lines and "saucy" situations. When the novelty of the "dubbing" process wears off, the whole affair becomes a trifle tiresome.

The Pied Piper (Savoy) presents Monty Woolley in the guise of an elderly Englishman, who is trying to evacuate six children from France to Britain during the dark days of 1940. The verbal duels between Woolley and a Gestapo chief—well played by Otto Preminger, who directed "Laura"—are witty and diverting, but the dénouement is rather too unlikely to be satisfactory.

Eagle Squadron (Carlton) is an exceedingly competently turned-out novelette about the adventures of a band of young Americans who joined the R.A.F. before their own country went to war. There are some embarrassing patches that explain "why ya gotta take it without bawlin' 'cause it's a war for freedom we're fightin'," but the speed and excitement of the action sequences atone for the intermittent sermons. There is good acting by Robert Stack, John Loder and Leif Erickson.

Sensations of 1945 (Metropole).—Even the presence of as personable a tap-dancer as Miss Eleanor Powell cannot justify Mr. Andrew Stone in stringing together a succession of noisy, vulgar and unmelodious "acts" and trotting out an elementary "story" as an excuse for photographing them. I do not think that I am unduly prejudiced when I say that this production is an insult to the public's intelligence and lacks even the elementary requirement of competent photography. I hope we shall not look upon its like again.

THE TEACHER'S PAY

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—It almost seems as if the Government is embarking on a deliberate policy of exasperation of the national teachers. A few days ago the Minister for Education stated in the Dáil that the question of future salary scales is under consideration. After two months' consideration he will have "conversations" with the teachers, and the new salary scales will be put into operation when the emergency is ended. Great news, this, after months of intensive struggle for a living wage, after appeals from the highest authorities in Church and State to remedy a disgraceful condition of things in the profession. The Government must, indeed, feel secure when it can afford to disregard the desperate need of the teachers, and can flout the representations of so many citizens of every rank and calling in their regard.

A couple of weeks ago at Ennis An Taoiseach made a stirring appeal to teachers to redouble their efforts in the language drive. Although he quoted the case of England to illustrate his arguments in connection with the language, he did not mention that in England they have a new Education Bill, which gives to teachers, for teaching a unilingual programme, double the salaries which they receive here for teaching a bilingual one. And Scottish teachers are treated, in many respects, even more generously. It may be that in the Island of Saints and Scholars teachers are expected to work from higher motives than filthy lucre, but it is very difficult to be highminded and hungry at the same time.

We shall, however, look forward to the promised conversations with the Minister, and endeavour, for our part, to make them as interesting as we can. In the meantime, during the two months while the Government is recuperating itself—although our own holidays are, necessarily, circumscribed—we can tighten our belts, and, meditating on the dignity of the noblest profession, chew the cud of the folly of placing our trust in the generosity or justice of Governments.—Yours, etc.,

K. M. CLARKE, President, Irish National Teachers' Organisation.

Cruiskeen Lawn

By Myles na gCopaleen

THIS morning I will hold fort on divers top picks, the whole variegated yet harmoniously-contrived discourse being directed to an exposition of that sad and boundless inundation, that febrile malaise, i.e., human folly. (Alas!)

First, a word of reproach to Pravda—on the strict hypothesis, however, that the words attributed to her by Reuter are reut. (Pardon my accent: it's that geutre again.) I quote what they purport to quote:

"Pravda, the Russian Communist Party organ, yesterday attacked 'the American gangster Press' for its anti-Soviet policy. 'Americans do not allow gangsters to murder people. Why then should they allow ——'"

Half a moment, there, Pravda! Beware false premisses! (I say nothing of false preMrs, as she then was). Why pick on Americans? Who does allow gangsters to murder people? How are you going to stop gangsters murdering people? And why pick on gangsters? Does nobody else ever do a little murdereen at all, eh? (Let there be Anna among Thebes!)

And now over to Portora School and Gloucester House, Enniskillen (na gcuan n-éadrocht, na n-eas mbinn!) famed natal lyceum of my eminence and other incorrigible irredentists. Some Saturdays ago this foundation announced in some paper (could it have been The Field?) that "The Athletic Sports will be held on THURSDAY, JULY 26th . . .", an announcement entirely fascinating to my majesty by reason of its incompleteness, i.e., it does not state when or where they will be holding the biological sports! (Even Omagh nods). I am thought nothing of up there now, but . . . . it's like everything else . . . . maius ab exsequiis nomen in portora venit!)

And next take this shocking matter of the sycophancy shown by the Poor Tanned Ox Board and the 'new' piers, graving docks, etc., which they pur'port' to propose to build. (Lord save us from the introvert who goes into business for the purpose of building old edifices!) Now read on:

"An official of the Board stated yesterday that the dock would cost a sum in the neighbourhood of £1,000,000. In the carrying out of work of the kind Government aid would be necessary, for it would not be an ecomonic proposition for the Board to float a loan itself. . . ."

The kind Government! Well now, faix, fwat aid? I know decent men working for the same kind Government and they do it without aid and, moreover, they don't whine about not being able to float alone ("a loan" is, of course, a misprint; they happen even in newspapers). And who is this official who speaks so glibly of "economic propositions." Let me tell him this, let him look at the kind Government, God help up—do you think they'd worry about floating alone? And is this country an economic proposition? If you think so you must be crazy—did you not go to the meeting below in the Mansion House the other night? Did you not hear the news? The country is . . . ruinded! (Though indeed, I must personally admit that this country is far ahead of others in the matter of hospital specialisation: imagine having a hospital devoted exclusively to Cork Street Fever!)

Finally I want to correct another misprint, this time in the report of a speech attributed to an American military governor in Berlin: "What we would like to do here is to establish a city Government that is applicable to the entire capital and which we could gradually build up, so that the city could run itself under supervision by the occupying governments. . ."

AN IRISHMAN'S DIARY

Fairy Story

EXTRAORDINARY, the fairy tales you come across while lounging about recovering from a certain thing that, for some good reason, I have been instructed not to mention. I was told this fairy tale by a fairy in a fifteen guinea suit. This fairy is in the motor business, and this fairy said that a great deal of agitation has been going on about buying the new President a new motor car. Something with a collapsible top was wanted, so that the new President, on fine days, could wave to the delirious populace.

All the motor marts of this country were examined, and a number of private individuals, with sufficient money to be able to run presidential motor cars, were sounded. But it came to nothing.

A further survey was made in England, Scotland and Wales, but, fantastic as it may be, not one of these outposts could provide a car suitable for the new President of Ireland.

Then, a bare step short of a new bicycle, a car was found—a second-hand, but nonetheless magnificent, Rolls Royce. The Rolls Royce was driven up to Arus an Uachtaráin, and the new President was asked to look it over.

Snag

The new President was as pleased as Punch, or I, would be at being given a free Rolls with unlimited petrol; but then Mr. de Valera appeared, and the whole thing took a new turn.

Mr. de Valera tried to get into the new President's car, and it seems that he hit his head a severe blow on the roof. Mr. de Valera has an individual method of getting into motor cars. He overlooks the running-board. He takes what virtually amounts to a running jump, and flings himself at the back seat with terrible force.

Mr. de Valera, in a rage, said that the new President could not have this particular motor-car. At this point, the motor man who was telling the story became vague. He did not know exactly what the President said. But I can imagine that the President said that, after all, it was his motor-car, and that Mr. de Valera had one of his own.

Mr. de Valera could not be appeased. Nobody dared to suggest to him that he place his foot first on the running board, and then bend, and slide in gently.

It is extraordinary the fairy tales you come across while lounging about recovering from a certain thing that, for some good reason, I have been instructed not to mention.

Ancient History: II

To continue our researches into this charming edition of the New York Herald, dated September 28th, 1874—let us take a piece entitled: "A Stroll in the Park and on the Avenue." "A Stroll in the Park and on the Avenoo" is as near to a song scena, with Betty Grable in high-buttoned boots, as makes no difference.

It says: "The delightful weather yesterday was enjoyed with keen zest by thousands of visitors to the metropolitan garden, and by myriads on the Avenue. The mall, ramble and other beautiful resorts in Central Park were crowded all day. Many notable toilets were to be seen, of which a few are deserving of special mention. A toilet of black silk, literally loaded with jet, had a perfectly plain demi-train skirt, with a broad triple box-pleat down the middle of the back, down which were placed at intervals very elaborate ornaments of passementerie and jet. On the front was a tablier of black lace, embroidered with jet, reaching quite to the edges of the underskirt, and finished with a handsome jet fringe. The 'cuirass' basque was of lace, embroidered with jet to match, worn over a black silk waist, and showing the silk sleeves, which were ornamented with bows of 'Cardinal' ribbon. A bow of the same ribbon was placed at the left of the belt, and another directly in front of the upturned brim of a light grey felt hat, which was otherwise trimmed with light grey velvet, with pipings of 'Cardinal' colour."

It should be understood that one doll carried the whole consignment—demi-train skirt, broad triple box-pleat, passementerie, tablier, "cuirass" basque, "Cardinal" ribbon, and light felt hat, with piping.

Another Cuirasse

Another fairly striking spectacle was to be seen. "The almost dazzling beauty of a stately blonde was heightened by an exquisite toilet composed entirely of velvet and black. A 'cuirasse' basque"—apparently all the rage—"and 'Lotella' overskirt of black silk, entirely covered with open English embroidery in a novel wheel design, were worn over a silk dress of deep violet, the overskirt reaching quite to the edge of the underskirt"—it's done it again—"both in the front and in the back, and the jacket, being sleeveless, showing the violet sleeves, trimmed with black lace. The hat was a black chip"—possibly coal—"trimmed entirely with violet velvet, and black and violet tips."

It seems probable that the compositor made a slip here. Confused by "violet velvet," he made it "black and violet tips," instead of "black and violent tips."

The most laughable thing, however, about "A Stroll in the Park and on the Avenue" is the fact that it was probably written by a man called Butch—Dorothy Dix and her satellites not yet having erupted upon the scene. Butch probably got a fearful razzing from his palsies in the newsroom, and went out afterwards and got as high as a kite on bourbon.

FUNERAL

MR. WILLIAM M. THOMPSON

The funeral of Mr. William Maxwell Thompson, 3 Dundela Park, Sandycove, took place on Saturday from the Centenary Methodist Church, St. Stephen's Green, to St. Fintan's, Sutton. Mr. Thompson, who was 66 years of age, came to Dublin from Belfast 42 years ago; was a past-president of the Dublin Master Builders' Association, and a member of the Special Committee set up by the Government to advise in matters relating to the planning of the post-war building industry.

The chief mourners at the funeral were:—Mr. R. Lance Thompson, son; Miss Phyllis and Miss Helen Thompson and Mrs. Noreen Bradshaw, daughters; Mr. David Thompson and Mr. R. L. Thompson, both of Belfast, brothers; Mrs. Margaret Thompson, daughter-in-law; and Mr. Keith B. Bradshaw, son-in-law.

WEATHER FORECAST

Moderate to fresh winds, variable in direction; unsettled weather, with bright spells and periods of rain or showers in most areas; risk of thunder late in day; cooler than of late.

Further Outlook—Unsettled; probably showers and bright periods.

DROGHEDA CEREMONIES

Over 150 pilgrims cycled from Dublin to the shrine of Blessed Oliver Plunket in Drogheda yesterday, to take part in the ceremonies organised by the Holy Ghost African Mission League, Circle of Our Lady and the Little Flower, in thanksgiving for Eire's preservation from the war. The pilgrimage was led by the Rev. Fr. McGrane, C.S.Sp., Kimmage. A small pilgrimage organised by the Pioneer Total Abstinence Association, Donabate, under the leadership of the Rev. E. Shine, C.C., also participated in the solemnities. Solemn High Mass was celebrated in St. Peter's Church (Blessed Oliver Plunket Memorial Church), where the head of the martyr is enshrined. The celebrant was the Rev. M. C. Walsh, C.C., Drogheda.

Incessant rain resulted in the postponement of the annual procession of the Sacred Relic through the streets of the town.

Chairman by Toss of Coin.—When the new Cork County Committee of Agriculture met on Saturday, Senator W. O'Callaghan (F.F.) and Mr. P. J. Halliden, T.D. (Farmers) tied with 11 votes each for the chairmanship, and it was agreed that Mr. P. Burton (Ind.), the only member who did not vote, should toss a coin, the winner to be Chairman and the loser Vice-Chairman. Senator O'Callaghan won the toss, and was, accordingly, elected Chairman, Mr. Halliden being appointed Vice-Chairman.

Taoiseach's Sta[tement on] Republic [...]

THE much-anticipated debate on the estimates for the Department of External Affairs has been fixed for 6 o'clock this evening. While the interest in this event, which rose almost to fever heat last week, has now greatly abated, there is no doubt that many will want to hear what the Taoiseach will have to say about the Republic position. However carefully he may avoid references to it in his opening speech, he cannot expect to avoid questioning by Opposition members.

The arrangement of business, as indicated last evening, will be that, after questions, the Committee stage of Johnstown Castle Bill will be taken, followed by the National Stud Bill on Report, the Documents and Pictures (Regulation of Export) Bill in Committee, and the Local Government Rates Bill in Committee. The estimate for the Department of Finance is scheduled to come next, but, if all these items have not been concluded, the business will be interrupted at 6 o'clock to take the External Affairs estimate.

HOSPITAL BOARD

Among questions to be asked is one by Mr. H. M. Dockrell (F.G.), who will ask the Minister for Local Government how the Board of the Dublin Fever Hospital will be administered in the future.

Mr. D. J. Flanagan (Ind.) will ask the Minister for Defence whether low-flying aircraft over the City of Dublin on recent occasions have been identified, and whether any representations have been made to the country, or countries, to which they belonged regarding the breach of international law.

Mr. W. Norton (Lab.) will ask the Minister for Supplies whether any arrangements had been made to import timber from Sweden or elsewhere, and, if so, when supplies would be available.

Status of Irish Emigrants

Irishmen and women who are considering emigration to Canada are taking especial interest in Mr. de Valera's declaration about "the Republic." One would-be emigrant who called at the Irish Times office last night pointed out the following passage in a circular which he had received in response to an inquiry from the Canadian High Commissioner's office in Dublin:—

". . . There has been, to date, no announcement by the Canadian Government in connection with post-war immigration. Canada, however, has always welcomed British subjects from the United Kingdom or the Dominions who are in good health, of good character and in possession of sufficient means to maintain themselves until they can become established, or are destined to relatives or friends able and willing to receive them."

The man, who says that he is on[e] of a number at present investigatin[g] the possibility of getting work i[n] Canada, expressed the hope tha[t] Mr. de Valera would tell the peop[le] who elected him if the twenty-s[ix] counties are a Republic or [a] Dominion, or if its people are [or] are not in the United Kingdom.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

without Calomel and you'll jump out of bed in the morning full of vim and vigour. The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk. Laxatives help a little, but a mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 1/3 and 3/-.
